Dear Friends of John XXIII Educational Center,

As a donor, you share in John XXIII's legacy of our students' achievements over the past eleven years of our existence. Your contribution is very important in providing the resources needed to help our students grow academically, personally, socially, and morally. These qualities empower our students to become lifelong learners and leaders in the Racine Community, in their families, and as future parents and adults. Given the needs of our families, we do not charge tuition. All donations are tax deductible.
